

Year 2030, the Federal Republic of Quebec

Maitre Guy Bertrand invites you to visit the web site www.republiquefederaleduquebec.com to see a 45-minute documentary on a unique and rousing political project, the Liberty-Nation Project, which he conceived for all the Québécois of every ethnic origin whatsoever.

This project, which is also futurist, first of all concerns the 17 administrative regions of Quebec, which are its foundation,<sup>1</sup> so that they can obtain their status as autonomous States, united and federated within the future Federal Republic of Quebec (FRQ) and so that together they can make the Quebec nation a modern<sup>2</sup> and prosperous free nation.

Dependency of the Regions

"This right to governmental autonomy is the political and constitutional<sup>3</sup> means par excellence which offers itself to the regions to free them from their tutelage and their dependency on the Government of Quebec and to exit from a constitutional yoke which deprives them of all the political and economic levers<sup>4</sup> so essential to their full development.<sup>5</sup> You all know how our regions are powerless because for every project, they must beg for their share of financing from the Government of Quebec, which in turn must beg for its own share from the government in Ottawa" affirms Maître Bertrand.

Inversion of the chain of powers<sup>6</sup>

To escape from this paralysis, the FRQ must be created, which will allow the inversion of the chain of powers so that it no longer is exerted from top to bottom, i.e. from the Quebec parliament<sup>7</sup> to the regions, as has been the case for far too long, but so that it is exercised rather from the bottom up, from the regions to the Parliament of Quebec so that henceforth its government and its 125 Members be subject solely to the will and expectations of the regions.

Division of powers

Therefore, this change will allow the regional States to share with the central Quebec Parliament all the powers of political and economic decision-making, including powers of assessment, taxation, licence fees on the exploitation of natural resources. They will each have their Governor, their Parliament<sup>8</sup>, and their Government. These 17 regional States, in a way, resemble the Swiss cantons<sup>9</sup>, the federated States of Austria, the American States<sup>10</sup>, or again, the Provinces<sup>11</sup> in the Canadian federation.

The Re-founding of Quebec

But, this political and constitutional change will not see light of day unless we, the francophone majority, agree to re-found Quebec, based on its regions, with the aboriginals, the Anglophones and the allophones.<sup>12</sup>

Stages leading to the realization of the LNP

What is surprising, in the documentary, is not only the slightly revolutionary content of the Liberty-Nation Project, but also its presentation, which is unique in politics.

Maître Bertrand took pains to highlight, in summary fashion, each and every one of the political stages of his project, from its conception to realization. Notably, it is a question of:

- A business plan comprising a number of studies;
- A maquette;
- A seven-stage plan of action;
- A study by international experts;
- A marketing and communications plan;
- A ratification plan<sup>13</sup>;
- A national unity government;
- A plan for negotiations;
- A national proclamation;
- A presidential election.

Quebec: a great nation

According to Maître Bertrand, the Liberty-Nation Project is surely ambitious, but it perfectly meets the standards of the hopes of the Québécois nation: "We are a great nation, which already exists de facto, even if it is not yet recognized in law. I propose that you clear this final step by creating the Federal Republic of Quebec which will open wide to us all the world's doors."

The FRQ: an historical continuity<sup>14</sup>

"Although the FRQ implies a rupture with Ottawa, it is not one with Canada. It rather signifies a different historical continuity, by one of its founding peoples, the French-Canadian people.<sup>15</sup> The FRQ is the stature of the Québécois people become adult,<sup>16</sup> mature and fully capable of taking their own destiny in their own hands and of assuming all its own responsibilities here as elsewhere in the world.", adds Maître Bertrand.

You will learn all the details of the Liberty-Nation Project in visiting the web site: www.republiquefederaleduquebec.com.

Exclusive English translation and commentary by Kathleen Moore on Sunday, 15 April, 2018.

<sup>1</sup> Notice the reference to the administrative regions (municipal regions, future city-states) as the "basis" or "foundation" of the Province. That statement reverses the constitutional reality that the provincial Legislatures (and the Parliament) are the foundation and basis of the country and of every province. They are the seats of sovereign legislative power of the founding peoples of Canada, and therefore, as legal jurisdictions, they belong to us, and to no one else.

<sup>2</sup> "Modern" is usually code language for Communist with all of these people. The word has been used for decades throughout the attempts to dismantle Canada.

<sup>3</sup> Abuse of language typical of these expert seditionists: he means constitutional as in "a" constitution, not "the" lawfully existing constitution, or at least the one that ought to exist. Like Rhodes in his "Sleeping Giant" message, glorifying the State Nullification fraud of the Tenters as a "doctrine", this is SELF-legitimization by abuse of language to mislead the public.

<sup>4</sup> These "political and economic levers" are described by socialist sociologist Maurice Zeitlin in his 1975 article "Planning is Socialism's Trademark" in a 1975 edition of the Daily World, an organ of the CPUSA apparently specifically targeted to the New York City area. Charlotte Iserby put the Zeitlin piece online at NewswithViews, and it is the jigsaw piece that proves these are Communist city-states.

<sup>6</sup> "Inversion" – precisely what I said up top. They are reversing the constitution to resituate the constitutional powers ... that belong to the founding peoples of Canada as its political sovereigns; and the outcome of which will be to disenfranchise us by abolishing our powers while enfranchising the new "multicultural" city-states, and also, necessarily, in the process, creating a new "division of powers" between the governing elements of the New World Order, i.e., the continental or hemispheric region, the world government, etc., etc.

<sup>7</sup> Canada is being overthrown in stages; one of the major stages took place in Quebec in 1982 when Rene Levesque, leading the Communist PQ de facto in power, enacted a "statute" whose "legal effect" is to in fact abolish the whole constitution of Canada, let's avoid those details for now; but which irrevocably transferred the powers of the Quebec Provincial Legislature into a new provincial "parliament" created by the Communist PQ under Levesque. The specific statute is called "Act Respecting The National Assembly" by which Lévesque presumed to change the Province into a Nation (notably in violation of s. 17 of the Constitution of Canada which imperatively states: "There shall be ONE Parliament for Canada" and section 77 which provides for a "Legislature" for each of the Provinces, which is not a parliament but is parliamentary in style); and see in the "Act Respecting The National Assembly", section: "2. The National Assembly and the Lieutenant-Governor form the Parliament of Québec. The Parliament of Québec assumes all the powers conferred on the Legislature of Québec. / No provision of this Act restricts the scope or exercise of those powers. / 1982, c. 62, s. 2." The effect of the provision and its language are totalitarian, with no escape hatch to reverse the procedure and recover the Provincial Legislature created by the lawful Constitution of 1867. The effect of this statute by this Communist-controlled regime is to abolish the whole constitution of Canada of which the province of Quebec is an integral part, since no key element of the Constitution can be destroyed without destroying the whole, including the Crown; and the Crown is shared with the whole of the UK and the former colonies of the British Empire, so the whole empire was shot down by this thing; but no one is talking. (Alterations affecting the Crown have to be agreed on by all those who use the Crown; unilateral alterations are unconstitutional and obliterate the Crown and everything attached to it, meaning all the Constitutions that use the Crown.) So we know something apocalyptic is afoot when things like this happen and no one does anything, in particular our so-called Sovereign who "assented" to this thing through her Lieutenant-Governor for Quebec, who happens to be a federal officer as Quebec's head of state; all the provincial heads of state are federal officers, not provincial, because Canada is a unity, the provinces are not separate entities and were never sovereign, as the American States were before they formed the U.S. Constitution.

<sup>8</sup> Each new expanded and consolidated municipal region or international city-state will be a NATION with a Parliament. This is extremely important, because the self-imposed powers here troubled themselves to cover up the creation by the Communist PQ in November-December 2000 of "Proto-Soviet Megacities", which were embryonic city-states now in foetal development by pretending that the "merger" which created the Montreal megacity was a "delusional" and "emotional" and "irrational" act by the ruling PQ. The then mayor of the City of Westmount, lodged within the island of Montreal and thus bordering the City of Montreal prior to the mega-merger, was Peter Trent. Trent was controlled opposition at the time as later appears because he ultimately agrees with the unconstitutional transfer of powers and resources into these pending city-states. He also authored a book entitled "The Merger Delusion" to create a fable about the Montreal mega-merger to hide the fact it was intentional as part of the Communist PQ plan for decades to decentralize provincial powers into new city-states. Trent's "Merger Delusion" is charmingly presented to the public in a nice little video promoting it, by none other than Lord Conrad Black of the Bilderberg Steering committee. In addition, last year, 2017, at the time of Montreal municipal elections (to the megacity), articles appeared in a local free tabloid, also alleging that the de facto creation of a PARLIAMENT within the megacity of Montreal also was a mistake by those who had pulled it off; I don't yet have the statutes used to create the Montreal megacity, so I don't yet have the exact wording that in effect creates a "Parliament" in Montreal; but that is what has been done, according to these articles; and it very obviously conforms to Guy Bertrand's "recommendation" above that each of the new expanded and consolidated municipal "regions" have its own "Parliament". So, a Communist city-state is being created under our feet and under our noses, and Mr. Bilderberg is helping to cover it up. We can also see that Conrad Black of the Bilderberg is hiding the fact that a Montreal PARLIAMENT was deliberately created for that megacity, precisely as wanted by Mr. Bertrand in his 2014 Liberty-Nation Project for the decentralization of Quebec into city-states. The prospect of a public “vote” on the subject, as “ratification” or otherwise, is therefore a farce, because they are already doing it and we are being manipulated to avoid our refusing it. It must also be noted that when all the Provinces copy Quebec and also decentralize, it will be “realized” that there is unnecessary repetition: that each set of Communist city-states has its own “national” level subordinate to it; and this will likely be resolved by merging all these new “national” levels (that previously were provincial) into one. Depending on the stage that has been reached in the development of the North American Union, this may be a merger into a new “supra-regional” level over all the little red city-states of Canada; or over all the little red city-states of Canada, the USA and Mexico; or, all the little red city-states in the Western hemisphere, with their brand new headquarters in Ottawa on Parliament Hill, i.e. the Kremlin’s new western headquarters.

<sup>9</sup> “in a way, resemble the Swiss cantons”: “in a way”. I believe the plan is to smash the city-states into ethnic cantons, by assigning law-making territory to each ethnic majority mass-immigrated into Canada in a growing tide over the past several decades. Communist Pierre Elliott Trudeau, in his “New Treason of the Clerics” in April 1962, called for the replacement of Confederation by “polyethnic pluralism” (invention of Zionist Horace Kallen) and now called “multiculturalism”. He said (translation): “the nationals will give themselves the laws”. He’s referring to the ethnics to be brought in (Canada was 96% white and Canadian in culture in 1962), and you cannot make “law” without territory to apply it to. In my research, the Swiss cantons have been a focal point of interest for everyone from Kremlin agents Sidney and Beatrice Webb to Paul-Gérin Lajoie in his 1950 doctoral thesis on the law of Constitutional Amendment in Canada.

<sup>10</sup> The international city-states they are creating hardly resemble the American States; unless, of course, Bertrand has in mind the fact that the American States, like our Provinces, are also being dismantled for the same end.

<sup>11</sup> It should be noted that in the package of constitutional statutes which created and developed Confederation, the BNA Act of 1871 was passed to “remove doubts”, thus affirming that the federal government has no legal power to alter the constitutions of the Provinces. In addition, the basic BNA Act of 1867 expressly denies all power to annex Canada to the USA or to dismantle Canada by secession. However, for decades, Quebec has been used to finesse these prohibitions by pretending that the poor French Canadians need their independence; when in fact it’s the Communists who need it to restructure the powers for Communist planning in Communist city-states. The ultimate goal therefore of smashing Quebec into city-states and carving up the city-states into ethnic cantons with local tiny law-making powers (however minimal, i.e., on the Soviet model) is a pretty radical violation of the prohibitions.

<sup>12</sup> The original “separatist” plan of the 1960s was to take Quebec out of Canada to prevent the ethnic and cultural “assimilation” of the poor, oppressed French Canadians by the nasty “Anglophones” (mostly Britanno Canadians with whom they founded Canada). Now, the new Communist plan is to use the French-speaking “Québécois” (a synthetic ethnicity likely first invented by René Lévesque in 1969) complete with the 200+ ethnic groups unconstitutionally mass-immigrated, and form city-states in which the French Canadians will obviously disappear both culturally and ethnically, since their institutions of self-government provided in 1867 will finally be eradicated after a transitional period in which they have been hijacked for this other purpose of mass immigration to populate the future international city-states; and in this transitional period, we white founding peoples of Canada are all deemed “racists” by default who must be suppressed by “hate speech” laws (laws to suppress valid opposition to political theft of our self-government) and by oppression and persecution from the newcomers who are encouraged to view us as racists and to denigrate and condemn our culture and our heritage. So, initially, to get the “secession” underway, French Canadian hostility against the “English” was fostered; but now, to get the “secession” and restructuring finished, we are all good friends, we nasty Anglos, we oppressed French Canadians, the “aboriginals” and the illegally mass-immigrated foreigners, who are all to assume the general false “ethnic” identity of Québécois and “vote” by conscription to validate this new Communist system. Moreover, the Communists are behind the mass immigration of the foreigners, which proves they really don’t care too much about the heritage and ethnic identity of the French Canadians.

<sup>14</sup> “historical continuity”. Everything in human history is an “historical continuity”, but here, the term is used to gloss over the lack of constitutional continuity, i.e., the nature of it as a final stage in a long-standing Communist coup d’état on Quebec and Canada.

<sup>15</sup> Here’s where they decide to acknowledge that the French Canadians exist; otherwise, the word Québécois is used to invent a new and malleable synthetic ethnicity essential to hide the fact that the ethnic French-Canadians are scattered across international borders, and are present in Canada, the USA, Central and South America; and by virtue of international “law” a sub-group of them cannot have international state recognition on a chunk of existing national territory, whether in Canada, the USA or elsewhere.

<sup>16</sup> Yes, denigrate them; they are infantile unless they give the Communists what they want.

<sup>17</sup> None for which he has the “party card” in his pocket, anyway. He has also forgotten to mention that he is a key strategist and performer in the 1995 Communist attempt to overthrow Canada with a referendum in Quebec.
